TOPSTARS 2018
EIT Raw Materials Summer School
2nd edition
July 16-25, 2018
CLab, Piazza Fiera 4, Trento

TOPSTARS 2018 offers to PhD students, master students on the last years of their course of study and young researchers a chance to consider the respective research projects on an innovation and market-oriented focus, contributing in this way to interconnect research and societal challenges, which have to be considered as business opportunities. Students and young researchers will have the chance to have an I&E perspective, becoming not only valuable researchers but potential entrepreneurs by combining the technical expertise with innovation and entrepreneurship experience. The Summer School will introduce students to entrepreneurial thinking and behavior, business and innovation processes, high-tech ventures marketing and business model generation techniques.
